JEFFREY P. GOLD, M.D.

NEW CHANCELLOR OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA MEDICAL CENTER

THURSDAY, MAY 29, 2014

Dr. Jeffery Gold assumed his position as chancellor of the University of Nebraska Medical Center on Feb. 1. He had served as chancellor and executive vice president of biosciences and health affairs and executive dean of the College of Medicine at the University of Toledo in Toledo, Ohio. He had been at that university since 2005.

Dr. Gold is a nationally recognized leader and tireless advocate for transforming academic medical education. As UNMC's chief executive officer, he is responsible for all aspects of campus administration, including its annual operating budget of more than $640 million, a staff of about 5,000 and its 3,600 students. In addition, the clinical enterprise at UNMC has more than 6,500 employees and an operating budget of more than $1 billion. Dr. Gold also holds a health professions appointment in the department of surgery; he is a board certified thoracic surgeon and specializes in adult and pediatric cardiac surgery.

Dr. Gold earned his M.D. from Cornell University, where he also earned a degree in theoretical and applied mechanics from the College of Engineering. He has authored more than 200 peer-reviewed articles, 250 national presentations and 40 books and book chapters. Said Tim Clare, chairman of the University of Nebraska Board of Regents, "We are extremely pleased to have someone as talented, passionate and experienced as Dr. Gold to lead UNMC. We are confident that, with his proven track record in health care, he can build on the success of his predecessor, Dr. Hal Maurer, and lead UNMC to new heights in the competitive health care industry of the 21st century."
