Membership

OPC membership is not limited just to the media. Membership is open to everyone. Our dues are among the lowest in the country for a private city club. We have much to offer for your membership including regular events, reciprocal club use, an executive chef providing fine or casual dining, free parking, free rooms for your private events and press conferences. You can become a member by simply filling out and submitting an application to the business office. You can have your membership billed to you on a monthly or annual basis. For more information on membership, go to www.omahapressclub.org

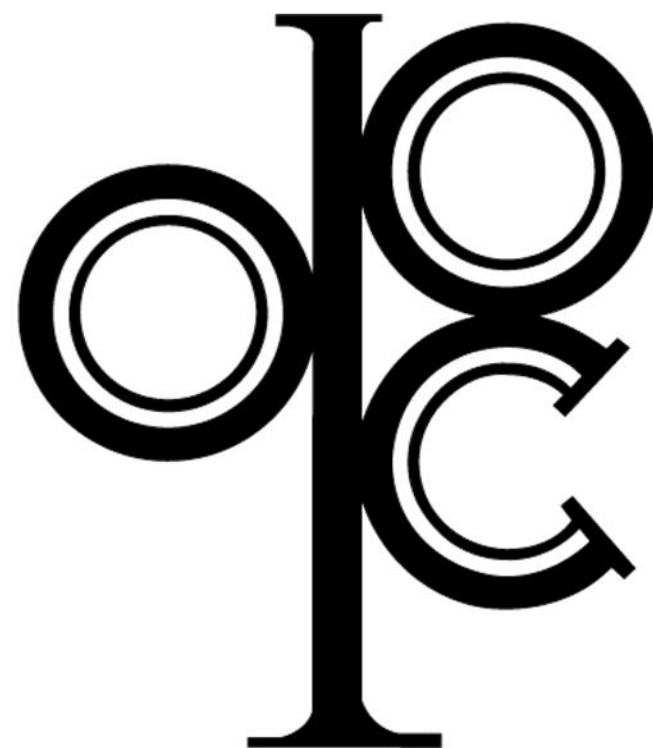

Please allow 1/2 hour for your delivery and specify North or South Tower.

Members sign on account.
Nonmembers pay cash or credit card.
